"I WISH YOU HAD SOAP THAT WOULD FLOAT," a lady said to a clerk in a large grocery store. "You have no idea how ordinary soap is wasted. The servants let it remain in the bottoms of the wash-tubs, dish-pans, and scrubbing-pails, and when the water is poured off, the soap has the consistency of mush, and a new bar must be taken from the box. If the soap would only float, they would see it, and take it out of the water when they were through with it."

The "IVORY SOAP" floats, replied the clerk. Oil will float; and, as the "IVORY SOAP" is made of oils, and is 99 44/100 per cent. pure, as a matter of course it will float.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C. Oct. 8, 1888.

Representative Campbell, of New York, says: "We are going to carry New York. The Republicans can't do anything to prevent it. They can't stop it. They don't know what I am talking about when I say that—but I know. We don't intend that they shall know it. We will carry the state easy. It will be much more agreeable and pleasant if we can have a union candidate for mayor of New York City. We can save about $200,000 by it, and that money can go into Indiana or somewhere else. I think we shall unite on the mayor, but I don't know who it will be."

The Republicans are certainly hard up for campaign material when they attempt, as they are doing, to make the public believe that Gen. Benet, Chief of Ordance U. S. Army, has been violating the civil-service law by issuing a political circular. The circular in question was sent to the commandants of arsenals and armories in 1886, and was strictly in the line of civil service reform, as it instructed the various commanders to so regulate employing and discharging of employes as to divide them about equally between the two parties, in other words, Gen. Benet wanted the employes of the War Department to be non-partisan.

The army officer in charge of the Washington aqueduct, which has been so fraudulently built, is a hold-over from the Arthur administration. Mr. Cleveland had nothing to do with his assignment to the duty which he has so shamefully neglected.

Senator Gibson, of Lonisiana, ably defended his State from the aspersions cast by the resolution of "Little Billy" Chandler proposing an investigation into the late State election. Mr. Gibson called attention ro the fact that no citizen of Louisiana had ever petitioned to have this invest gation made. He also alluded to the fact, which has become notorious, of these investigations always being proposed just before an important Congressional or Presidential election is to be held. In the last allusion the Senator struck at the heart of the bloody shirt business. It is always brought to the front just before election time in the hope that it will help to arouse sectional feeling in the North and make votes for the Republican party.

The House Judiciary Committee is considering the subject of trusts with a view of taking all the various bills which have been introduced on the subject and perfecting therefrom one bill so framed as to avoid Constitutional and other objections. It is a big task, but the members of the committee hope to be able to accomplish it.

The House has had no quorum for a week, and it is extremely doubtful if it has one again before election. No business can be done without unanimous consent.

Senator Sherman's Canadian resolution has been reported to the Senate and placed on the calendar, and a statement made that it would not be pushed to a vote at the present session. This statement by Sherman will be made an excuse for choking off the House Canadian Retaliation bill.

Representative Stahlnecker, of New York, was honorably acquitted of the charges preferred against him by Representative Kelley in connection with the new Congressional Library Building. The vote of the committee was unanimous.

A joint committee of the House and Senate will investigate the frauds in the building of the Washington aqueduct.

Few people have any idea of the enormous growth of the Railway Mail Service. Here are a few figures used by Representative Blount, of Georgia, in a speech last week on a bill to increase the salary of the Superintendent and providing for an assistant superintendent. In 1879 mails were carried over 79,000 miles of railroad; in 1887 they were carried over 107,000 miles. In 1879 the number of pieces of mail matter handled by postal clerks was 2,659,000; in 1887 it had increased to 5,851,000.

The majority report of the Utah commission is against the admission of that Territory, until the Mormons shall give evidence by their acts that they have in good faith abandoned polygamy, and not then until an amendment shall have been added to the Constitution of the United States prohibiting the practice of polygamy.

Owing to the conditional illness of Senator Beck, there has been some delay in the preparation of the minority report which is to accompany the Republican tariff bill when it is reported to the Senate. The report is being made up by Senators Harris and Vance, and they hope to have it completed by the middle of the week.

Chief Justice Fuller and family have arrived here and have taken possession of the house he has leased for a year. The new Chief Justice will be sworn in next Monday and will take part in the opening of the fall sessions of the Supreme Court on that day.

It took the clerk of the Senate Finance Committee four hours to read the Republican tariff bill alone.

Mr. Sheridan's pension bill has been passed by the Senate.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland may attend the opening of the Richmond exposition on the 24th instant.

Civil-Service Commissioner John H. Oberly, of Illinois has been nominated Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

Ex-Congressman Ben. LeFevre, of Ohio, thinks the Democrats have a good fighting chance in that State.

Ex Senator Camden, of West Virginia, says his State can be counted upon to give the usual Democratic majority.

Benefits of a Good Memory.

Professor McGoozle suddenly turned pale, looked at his watch and his hair rose up on end.

Miss Laura, with whom he had been spending the evening, observed his agitation.

"What is the matter, Professor?" said she; "it is not yet late."

"Not late!" he groaned. "Merciful heaven! I was to have given a lecture in the chapel this evening at 8 o'clock on the "Importance of Cultivating the Memory."—Chicago Tribune.

The Republican Party Hauls Down It Flag.

The announcement officially made, as we print elsewhere, that the republican party will not discuss the Tariff bill at this session of Congress. "The demand for a measure of some kind from the republicans," we are informed, "is a just one and will be met by the Senate. At the same time that legislative body will frankly say to the public in their report that more time is needed and more testimony solicited. In this way the proposed measure can be modified and injustice to either labor or capital avoided. The republican party cannot afford to act hastily in this matter." "Let a tentative bill bill be presented and then refer the whole matter back to the Finance Committe.

Since swindling and falsehood have become depraved forms of human ingenuity there has been no exhibition so marked as the republican course on the tariff. Almost a year has elapsed since the President called the attention of Congress to the surplus as an evil threatening the nation's credit. The democrats worked out a remedy in the Mills bill. The country expected the republicans to follow their example and Congress decided between the plans. When the rumor came that no serious discussion of the tariff was intended by the republicans, that Mr. Blaine and Mr. Quay had so advised, this was denied with indignation. But rumor was well informed.

If the republicans were in earnest their tariff bill should have been ready as soon as the Mills bill. They had as much time as the democrats, and knew their own mind quite as well. But they wished no bill, and so, after falsehood, delay, promises, misrepresentations, pretending to examine, take testimony and inquire, we are officially told there will be no bill. "The republican party cannot afford to act hastily in this matter."

Why should the republican party act hastily? The monopolists are in power. Labor bears the burdens. The Carnegies amass mammoth incomes, the result of oppressive imposts. The tariff suits the oppressor. It is a vested interest, like the land; sacred, like the Crown and the Established Church. If ten years are to be consumed in "discussing" a new tariff measure, it will mean ten more for the monopolists to enjoy their plunder.

So on this tariff question the republican party hauls down its flag. There is an end of that comedy. And on the business of retaliation against Canada Mr. Sherman likewise hauls down the flag. Retaliation might hurt Portland, Me., as "Canada's winter port," and that would never do. For under this blessed republican domination the whole country may shiver or burn provided no harm comes to the slightest Yankee interest.

The flag is hauled down, Mr. Blaine's orders have been obeyed. The pretence which has held Congress together until autumn—namely, that there would be an honest vote on the tariff—was a fraud. The republicans never meant to act.

But the people may have something to say, and the more clearly they understand the nature of this barefaced fraud the more emphatic will be the response in November.—New York Herald.

Questions for Workers.

If high tariffs make high wages why have the workingmen of this country—those in the "protected" industries most of all—been compelled to strike for better thousands of times during the last fifteen years?

Why, if the tariff protects, has Labor found it necessary to organize for self protection?

Why, if Protection insures abundant employment, have 1,000,000 workmen suffered enforced idleness at one time and hundreds of thousands been shut out at frequent intervals?

Why are wages from 30 to 60 per cent. higher in the same industries in different States that are all under the same tariff and subjected to free trade among themselves?

Why are wages lower in the so-called protected industries—mining, mills, manufactories, etc.—than in other forms of skilled labor—carpenters, masons, printers, etc.?

Why are wages the lowest in the most perfectly "protected" countries of the world—China, Russia and Spain—and higher in Free-Trade England than in any protected country of Europe?

What section of the Tariff law constrains protected manufacturers to add the tariff to the wages of their operatives? Do they in fact do this?

Let workingmen think of these things.—World.

Big Checks for New York Taxes.

October 1 was the last day for payment of taxes in New York City so as to procure the rebate at the rate of 6 per cent. a year, thus obtaining a practical investment of their money at about 8 per cent.

No attempts could be made to classify the checks and cash payments during the day. They were all dumped into big boxes to be sorted out at night. Trinity Church's check was for $400,000; the Astor estates for a similar sum and the Goelet estate for $250,000. The New York Central Railroad Company and the Vanderbilt family paid $675,000. Receiver McLean said that as near as he could estimate the amount received during the day was $8,000,000.

How They Fumigate Letters.

Letters from the stricken yellow fever section are fugimated in a novel way, so that there is little or no chance for the disease being brought northward. The letters are all stopped when they reach the quarantine lines. Each letter is put under a machine with a long arm attached, and this is provided with little teeth punctured at the ends. A powder that is used for fugimating purposes is forced through the arm and down through the teeth. The arm comes down on each letter, and while the little teeth are perforating the letter the powder is blown in between the sheets, disinfecting the letter thoroughly. Then it is forwarded to the person to whom it is addressed. Some complaint has been heard of damage to letters, but so long as they remain legible a little disfigurement should be welcomed as a proof of protection.—N. Y. World.

GENESIS AND GEOLOGY.

When we find that in nature and Scripture that does not seem to correspond, we must reconcile nature to Scripture. We must accept the Bible as the Divine word, and in case we find that which we cannot possibly reconcile we must be satisfied to know that it is beyond our comprehensions. It is not proposed to explain the whole subject of Genesis, but simply to show as well as may be, the agreement between the account of the creation, by Moses, and the testimony given by the rocks. God created the heavens and the earth, and all that therein is, in six days. We are not to suppose that these days were only twenty-four hours long. There was then no division of time, and if there had been, as there is now, where are those days to be measured? At the poles, where they are six months long or at the equator where they are but twelve hours in length? It is generally held by scientific men that the word day as used here, means period, and judging from the formation of the different rocks and strata that enter into the composition of the earth, they hold that these periods were from 1000 to 4000 years in length. One of the strongest proofs of this fact is, that many of the shells which live on the sea coast, and not a few of the species of wild animals that still roam over the land were in existence many thousands of years before the creation of man.

DESCRIPTION OF THE GEOLOGICAL FORMATION OF EARTH.

Embedded in the crust of the earth are frequently found animals belonging to extinct species. Most of these animals are remarkable for their immense size. During this ancient time the Northern Mammoth lived in great abundance, also the hippopotamus, and two species of rhinoceros, and though they have all ceased to exist, we know that the descendants of some of their cotemporaries, such as the badger, the fox, wild cat, and red deer, still live amid our hills and brakes. The trees too under which they roamed, and whose remains we find buried in the same crust were of species that still hold their place as aboriginal trees of the country. For many ages must the old extinct elephant have roamed amid these trees. From one limited tract of sea-bottom on the coast of England, the fisherman engaged in dredging oysters, brought ashore in 13 years no fewer than 2000 elephants' grinders, besides great tusks, and portions of skeletons. Remains of this ancient elephant occur all around the globe, in a broad belt, about 30 degrees in width. It must have taken ages to procure so many of these mammoth animals. We will speak of the animals of this period again. Let us now glance at the question as to whether the revelations of the science of Geology may be reconciled with the Scripturs account of the creation. It has been already explained that the days referred to are periods of long duration. There are six of these periods, but Geology is called upon to prove but three of them, viz: The period of plants, of great sea monsters and creeping things, and the period of cattle and beasts. Of the period during which light was created, of the period during which a firmament was made to separate the waters from the waters, or of the period during which the two great lights with the other head bodies became visible from the earth, the rocks will give us no information. The principal geological divisions are the first, or oldest fossil bearing division, the secondary, or middle, and the tertiary, or latest. In the first we find corals, fishes, a few reptiles. But that which gives the leading characteristic to this period is its vegetation. It was the period of plants, "of herbs yielding seed, after their kind." In no other age was there ever such a flora. The youth of the earth was peculiarly a green and shady youth. A youth of dark and tangled forests, of huge pines, the tall tree-fern and many others. Every foot of the dark and steaming soil was covered with the most rank and luxuriant herbage. Of this extraordinary age of plants we have our cheerful witnesses in the flames that was in our chimneys when we fill up the winter fire, in the gas that lights our cities, in the glowing furnaces that smelt our metals, in the long dusky trains that, with shriek and snort, speed rapidly across our continent, and in the great vessels that rush in foam over the ocean. This is the period of the coal formation, the geological evidence is complete as to the fact that the first gnat period of organized being was peculiarly, as described in the Mosaic record, a period of plants and trees. The middle period possessed, like the first one, its herbs and plants, but not nearly of so luxuriant a growth. The grand existences of the age were its huge creeping things, its monsters of the deep, and its gigantic birds, as shown by their footprints in the sandstone. Its wonderful whales, its lizards and crocodiles the teliosaurus and megalosaurus, animals that more than rivalled the existing elephant in height, and greatly rivalled it in bulk, must have crowded the plains, and swarmed the rivers in myriads, and we know that the footprints of one of its many birds is at least twice the size of that of a horse or camel. Thus the second creation in the Mosaic account correspond to the second geological period, as it was a period in which God created the fowl that flieth above the earth, with moving creatures both in the waters and on the land. The third period in its vegetation seems to have been no more conspicuous than the present, its reptiles occupy a subordinate place, but its beasts of the field were wonderfully developed. Its mammoths and mastodons rhinoceros and hippopotamus, the dinotherium, and megatherium greatly exceeded in bulk and numbers the largest animal of the present. In speaking of England at that time, an English naturalist says, "Grand indeed, was the fauna of the British Isles in those days, tigers as large again as the biggest Asiatic species lurked in the ancient thicket. Elephants of nearly twice the bulk of the largest one now in existence swarmed in herds. The massive cave bear and large cave hyena, with two species of great oxen, a horse of a smaller size, an elk that stood ten feet four inches in height, were the species of animals, with many others, belonging to this period. Truly this third and last period was peculiarly the age of great "beasts of the earth after their kind."

There is another period called the Azoic, before animal life was created, when the temperature of the earth's crust seems to have been high that the strata at first deposited apparently in water, passed into a semi fluid state, became strangely waved and contorted. This is the lowest stratum found. Genesis. Let us suppose that during the earlier part of this period of excessive heat, the waters of the ocean had stood at the boiling point even at the surface, and farther that the half molten metal crust stretched out over a molten abyss, was so thin that it could not support, save for a short time after some convulsion, even a small island above the sea level. What would be the aspect of the ocean a few hundred yards over the sea? It would be a blank, for the earth was completely enveloped in a cloud of steam. And beneath this thick canopy the unseen deep would literally "boil as a pot," wildly tempested from below, while from time to time more deeply seated convulsion would upheave to the surface, vast tracts of half molten rock, soon again to disappear, and from which waves of enormous bulk would roll outwards, to meet in conflict with the giant waves of other convulsions or return to hiss and sputter against the heated mass, whose violent upheaval had first elevated and sent them abroad. Such would be the probable state of things during the times buried deep in that chaotic night which must have continued to exist for many ages after that beginning of things in which God created the heavens and the earth, and which preceded the first day. Within the cloud spoken of all would have seemed thick darkness to a human eye. At length, however as the earth's surface gradually cooled down, the steam atmosphere became less dense and at length the rays of the sun struggled through in obedience to the divine mandate, "Let there be light." But space will not permit us to take up each day separately. The work of the second and third days as given by Moses are confirmed by the testimony of the rocks. On the fourth day the sun moon and stars appear. They were probably created before. The fifth and sixth days that of great sea monsters and winged fowl, and that of cattle and beasts of the earth belong to the secondary period, and the tertiary, in which the gigantic mammals possessed the earth. Man belongs to the close of this latter period. It was for him that the earth had been undergoing through so many ages the changes that had come over it. All these were to fit it for man's habitation. In either of the previous periods man could not have lived. The atmosphere that surrounded the globe would have been instantaneously fatal to him. But it was ready to receive him, and he was created by God, in his own image created he him, and with man's appearance on the scene the days of creation end, and the Divine Sabbath begins, that Sabbath of rest from creation labor of which the proper work is the moral development and elevation of the species, and which will terminate only with the full completion of that sublime task on the full accomplishment of which God's eternal purposes and the tendencies of man's progressive nature are alike directed. The sixth day of creation is thus described by Hugh Miller, a celebrated writer on the testimony of the rocks.

"Again the night descends, for the 5th day has closed, and morning breaks on the sixth and last day of creation. Cattle and beasts of the fields graze on the plains, the thick skinned rhinoceros wallows in the marshes; the squat hippopotamus rustles among the reeds, or plunges sullenly into the river, great herds of elephants seek their food among the young herbage of the woods; while animals of fiercer nature the lion the leopard and the bear, harbor in deep caves until the evening, or lie in wait for their prey mid tangled thickets, or beneath some broken bank. At length as the day wanes, and the shadows lengthen, man, the responsible lord of creation, found in God's own image, is introduced upon the scene, and the work of creation ceases forever upon the earth. The night falls once more upon the prospect and then dawns yet another morrow, the morrow of God's rest, that Divine Sabbath in which there is no more creative labor, and which "blessed and sanctified" beyond all the days that had gone before, has as its special object the moral elevation and refinement of man, and over it no evening is represented in the record as falling, for its special work is not yet complete." Such seems to have been the sublime panorama that passed before the vision of "The shephard who first taught the chosen seed in the beginning how the heavens and earth rose out of chaos."

And rightly understood, it seems that there is not a single scientific truth that, not only accords with, but confirms the minutest of the details of the creation as given us by Moses.

THE LOG CABINS of America have been birth places of some of the grandest men. Lincoln, Grant, Sheridan, first saw the light of day through the chinks of a Log Cabin. Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla also originated in a Log Cabin and stands pre-eminent among the blood purifiers of to-day as Warner's "Tippecanoe" does as a stomach tonic.

Literary Notes.

The principal article in the October Book NEWS (John Wanamaker, Philadelphia) is an interesting account of the history of "Book Illustrations," by John V. Sears. The number is accompanied by a very good portrait of the brilliant authoress Amelie Rives, and contains a short sketch of her life. The book reviews and miscellaneous articles make up a very readable magazine of fifty-two pages.

Dyspepsia.

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. We know of no remedy for dyspepsia more successful than Hood's Sarsaparilla. It acts gently, yet surely and efficiently, tones the stomach and other organs, removes the faint feeling, creates a good appetite, cures headache, and refreshes the burdened mind. Give Hood's Sarsaparilla a fair trial. It will do you good.

The Whitechapel Murders.

For some weeks past the city of London has been in great consternation over a series of remarkable murders that have taken place in what is known as Whitechapel, one of the lowest quarters of the city. A number of women have been found with their heads and arms missing, and their bowels protruding from cuts in the abdomen. All bear the same marks and the murders are evidently perpetrated by the same person. A recent dispatch from London says,

Since last Sunday the evening papers have been busy contr dicting stories of the morning papers about the Whitechapel murders, and the next day's morning papers have returned the compliment in kind. Except that mutilated bodies have been found and identified no fact throwing light upon the deed or the murderers has transpired. The Evening News which has been the greatest manufacturer of incidents, rumors of arrests, etc., is compelled to say this evening:

"Matters stand now, as far as the murders are concerned, just where they did on Sunday last, and it is safe to state that not the faintest evidence likely to lead to detection and arrest has been forthcoming. At the present moment there is not one person under detention."

Doubtless some of the sensational and groundless tales have been cabled across the ocean. Nevertheless, they are the rumors and concoctions of fanciful reporters.

The reign of terror that has held undisputed sway in the East End since Sunday continues with unabated force. Popular excitement and indignation as time goes on seems to be intensifying, and the public and police alike are becoming more and more determined to unearth the miscreant, who doubtless still haunts the scenes of his fiendish deeds.

Exasperation pervades all classes of society in the East End, and should the murderer fall into the clutches of the Whitechapel crowd it will result in an outburst which it would be difficult for the police to control and perhaps give Englishmen no longer a chance to arraign American vigilantes or Judge Lynch.

The New York World says:

The fact that all the victims of the Whitechapel murderer are abandoned women who prowl in the streets at night indicates that his maniacal rage is directed against them as a class, and against them only. He may have suffered through one or more of them griefs that have taken away his reason. His wife or his daughter may have found her way to their ranks. Or he may have fallen through his own dissolute courses and have been stripped of fortune, respectability and health until all hope vanished and a consuming craze for revenge took its place.

It cannot be supposed that any rational being would undertake such a career of murder and mutilation as is pursued in this case. It may be that the deep cunning involved in escaping detection could not be exercised by a man in the full possession of sane fears and hopes. The unfaltering determination evinced could only co-exist with an absolute indifference to consequences which is not compatible with sanity. And the mania of the murderer must confine itself to one vent, otherwise he would speedily be run down.

The London police come in for much censure and derision for their failure to arrest the culprit; but there are men in Scotland Yard who are far from being fools. It would be well to suspend judgment concerning them until this strangest of chapters in the history of crime is closed.

Log Cabin Logic.

Brawn and Brain!

The powerful engine, with its wonderful propelling power, coupled to the long train full freighted with the richest fabrics of the intellectual looms of the centuries—what obstacles can stay the progress of this mighty along when once under full steam force, life's highway?

The American with brawn and brain does not see the necessity for tittles of nobility, does not care for elevation descent, he can reach out and pluck the stars.

But with brawn or brain impaired, a man is badly handicapped in the mad race for success which is the marked characteristics of the present age.

The physicial system is an intricate piece of machinery, it ought to be kept well regulated, so that it will work harmoniously in all its parts, then it is capable of an immense amount of work.

It is said that a watch, if expected to keep perfect time, must be wound daily. It will not keep good time unless it "runs regular." More men break down because they don't "run regular" than for any other reason.

It is claimed by physicians that few men are killed by hard work. It is to the irregularities of modern social life that the high death rate is due. Men burn their candle at both ends, then wonder why it burns out so quickly.

The main thing in keeping the human machine in good working order is to keep the regulator all right. "The Blood is the life," and sound health is assured so long as the blood flows through the veins a limpid stream of purity.

Regulate the regulator with Warner's Log Cabin sarsaparilla, the old-fashioned blood purifier, prepared after the best formula in use by our ancestors in good old Log Cabin days and with the vigor of brawn and brain which must ensue, in your life's lexicon you will find no such word as fail.

Connecticut Town Elections.

From the Hartford Times.

The returns from the town elections of Monday, so far as received, are quite as favorable as usual. The Republicans are quite certain to carry more of the small towns than the Democrats. Upon those towns they rely for success in the legislative elections. But the Democrats have held their own, and we think in the aggregate made a gain, in the farming towns, and in the manufacturing towns they have done remarkably well.

It is an absolute fact that there is not an ounce of POND'S EXTRACT sold which is not put up in their own bottles by POND'S EXTRACT CO. It cannot be bought except in the Company's bottles. No druggist can make it. No druggist can "put it up" for you. The only way to get the real POND'S EXTRACT is to buy a bottle with the Company's strip over the cork, their name blown in the glass, and their landscape trade mark on the buff wrapper. Any druggist who would deceive you about this by selling you a cheap, spurious imitation as POND'S EXTRACT, saying that he "buys it by the barrel and puts it in bottles himself," is not a safe man to sell medicine or anything else.

BLOOMSBURG, PA.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1888.

The good news comes at last that Jack Frost is driving away the yellow fever pestilence in the South.

Bloomsburg is credited with a contribution of twenty five dollars to the Democratic National Committee. This was raised through the efforts of J. M. Clark Esq, and is only the first instalment of what will be given.

The Fitzpatrick Case.

Messrs. Eds.

The decision of the Supreme Court in the Fitzpatrick case on Monday of last week changes the law from what has been the practice and understanding throughout the state for years.

Fitzpatrick of Lackawanna county, was tried for murder. After the case had been in the hands of the jury for five days the last day of that term of court came and they were discharged because they could not agree. The defendant was called for another trial in the following month and pleaded specially the former trial and the discharge of the jury without rendering a verdict in favor of any further trial for the same offense.

The Court holds that the constitutional provision "that no person shall for the same offense be twice put in jeopardy of life and limb" is an answer to the indictment, and the judgement entered by the court below on the plea in favor of the prisoner was right and is affirmed."

If this be the meaning of the constitution then it is high time for a constitutional amendment. The meaning of "being put twice in jeopardy" could not have been that a failure of a jury to agree is equivalent to a verdict of acquittal. And yet that is what the Supreme Court says is the law. It is only necessary now that a murderer should secure one friend on a jury and he is sure to go scot free, for one man can cause a jury to disagree, and a failure to agree is equivalent to an acquittal.

It has been the universal practice to try men over again in cases where the jury does not agree, and the question has never been raised before. Fortunately for Fitzpatrick it was raised in his case, and possibly saved his life. Hereafter until the constitution is changed, it will be necessary only to convince one member of the jury in murder cases to save the life of the most depraved assassin, whereas heretofore it has been necessary to convince twelve men.

A Layman.

[Our correspondent is mistaken in assuming that this question has never before been ruled upon by the Supreme Court. It is a point that has been several times decided, the first time as long ago as 1822, in the case of the Commonwealth against Cook and others who were indicted for murder, and after trial the jury was discharged without rendering a verdict, and without the consent of the prisoners. In a long and learned opinion by Chief Justice Tilghman, it was held that "in capital cases, the court has no power, without the consent of the prisoner, to discharge the jury because they have not agreed, and declare they never can agree upon a verdict. In cases of absolute necessity the jury may be discharged. "The judge says "we may conclude that in cases of consent, fairly given, when the prisoner is assisted by council, and the discharge of the jury is intended for his benefit, they may be discharged without giving a verdict."

In the case of the Commonwealth against Clue, it was decided that "the court may discharge a jury in a capital case, without a verdict, in a case of absolute necessity; but mere inability to agree does not constitute such a case; if a jury be discharged under any other circumstances, the prisoner may plead that he has been once in jeopardy for the same offense."

In the case of McFadden against the Commonwealth, tried in 1853, Chief Justice Black said in his opinion "that the mere continuance of a cause is within the discretion of the court. Refusing it to a prisoner when he gives good reasons for it, or granting it to the Commonwealth without any reason at all, is neither a defense to the accused party when he comes to be tried, nor a legal assignment of error in this court. But a discharge of the jury, in a capital case, after the trial has begun, is not a continuance of cause. It is the end of it. And for all purposes of future protection, it is the same to the prisoner as an acquittal, unless it was done with his own consent or demanded by some overwhelming necessity, such, for instance, as the sickness or death of a juror."

The trial begins when the jury is charged with the prisoner, and that happens as soon as the jury is empanneled and sworn. From that time he is in jeopardy, and he cannot be tried again for the same offense, except he be brought within the rule that has been clearly established by the Supreme Court for many years. The decision in the Fitzpatrick case is in harmony with a long line of cases on the same point, and we cannot see any occasion for a constitutional amendment on this subject.—Eds.]

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C. Oct. 8, 1888.

Judge Thurman is a guest of Mr. Cleveland at Oak View. He is looking much better and stronger than he did when here last. He will make an argument for the Government in the well-known telephone cases, which are to be heard by the Supreme Court this week. He declined a public reception tendered him by the citizens of this city.

An event took place to-day in the United States Supreme Court room that in importance and impressiveness was second only to the inauguration of a President. Mellville Weston Fuller was inducted into what many people, your correspondent among the number, believe to be the most important office under our form of Government—Chief Justice of the United States. The Court room was crowded to its utmost capacity by nearly all the prominent people now in the city, all anxious to witness the swearing in of a Democratic Chief Justice, an event which has not taken place before since 1836, when Roger B. Taney, appointed by that old war horse of Democracy, Andrew Jackson, took the position which he was to so ably fill for twenty-eight years, and which was to give him world-wide fame. The ceremonies used to-day were exactly similar to those used when Chief Justice Chase took his seat in 1864, and they were very solemn and impressive; in fact, everything about the Supreme Court, is, to me, if not to everybody. The new Chief Justice made a favorable impression, although his physique is anything else but imposing, but his face and head give unmistakeable evidence of the possession of an ample supply of that subtle power which governs the world—brains.

Two notable Indianians were in this city last week—Governor Gray and Aquilla Jones, postmaster of Indianapolis. They both gave cheerful statements of the political outlook in the Hosier State. They regard the State as certain for Cleveland and Thurman.

Mr. Cleveland got a day's fishing on the upper Potomac last week. He has given up all hopes of a vacation trip this year.

Mr Taylor, Ex-Minister to Liberia, who is in charge of the negro Democratic headquarters in New York, was over here Saturday. He says that every election district of New York state has a negro Democratic club, and that not less than 240,000 negroes will vote for Cleveland and Thurman, in the Northern States alone.

A full meeting of the Democratic National Committee is to be held in New York Wednesday.

Representative Wilson, of West Virginia, says that State will give Cleveland a larger majority that in 1884, and that it will send a solid Democratic delegation to Congress.

The Republican tariff bill was taken up to-day in the Senate. There is no possible chance to dispose of it before the election. It is probable that a few speeches will be made upon it, and that sometime between the 10th and 25th of this month a recess will be taken until after the election, when the fight will be resumed and kept up in a sort of a way—greatly dependent on the result of the election—until the Fiftieth Congress expires. No body expects any kind of a tariff bill to pass both House and Senate as at present constituted.

Chairman Barnum was here Friday and Saturday. He has no doubts of the election of Cleveland and Thurman.

Representative McMillan, who has been making speeches in New York and New Jersey, thinks the outlook for a Democratic victory in both states is very encouraging.

The new navy is slowly materializing. The iron cruiser Baltimore was launched at Philadelphia Saturday, and the gunboat Petrel will be ready to launch in about ten days. The money appropriated for the navy has been properly spent under this administration.

At least two Senators—Saulsbury and Stewart—one a Democrat and one a Republican, have put themselves on record as being in favor of the repeal of the civil service law.

The discussion of a Senate amendment to the general deficiency appropriation bill, which appropriates $80,000 for the Industrial Christian Home Association of Utah, an association for the benefit of dependent women and children who desire to sever their allegiance to the Mormon Church, brought out the fact that the present administration is the only one that has ever taken any practical steps to break up polygamy although the Republican party has since 1856 regularly adopted a plank in their party platform denouncing it is a relic of barbarism. It remained for the Democratic party through the present administration to take the first steps towards the extinction of polygamy.

Attorney-General Garland has returned from his long vacation much improved in health.

Senator Beck has returned from Fortress Monroe somewhat improved in health, but not well enough to resume his Congressional duties.

As election day draws nearer, the attendance at the sessions of the House gets smaller and smaller. Business requiring a quorum has long ago been abandoned, and if a recess is not soon taken—all hopes of adjournment having been given up—there will not be a dozen members in attendance.

Senator Voorhees has gone to indiana to remain until after the election. He will speak every day.

The friends of the Oklahoma bill in the House, while not numerou enough to pass that measure, have succeeded in having the Senate amendment to the general deficiency bill, extending the laws of the United States over No Man's Land, dropped.

Weak will power, from physical causes deranges a man's life in every direction. Every one will strengthen his will powers as well as his bodily powers, by using Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla. It is guaranteed the best. Sold by your druggists for $1. Contains 120 doses. Take no other for it.

An Eloquent Speech.

HON. F. E. BELTZHOOVER, OF CARLISLE, AT THE MECHANICSBURG MEETING.

Hon. F. E. Beltzhoover, of Carlisle, during his remarks at the democratic demonstration at Mechanisburg on Monday night said in substance:

We are engaged in a mighty effort to liberate the people of the nation from the insatiate greed of countless daring conspiracies which are called trusts—twin brothers of a high tariff which are founded upon the doctrine which holds as it has held in all ages, that the masses of men are born with saddles on their backs and a favored few are born booted and spurred to ride them by the grace of God. We are arrayed in conflict with a system which makes Carnegies, and Goulds, and Vanderbilts and Armours, arrogant with their millions wrung from the furrowed brows of toil while their fellow men can scarcely earn their daily bread. In this battle the democratic party is entitled to stand as the champion of the people for all the reasons which ever inspired confidence among men. Its history is its hostage for fidelity. It sprung from the opposition to aristocracy and centralization. It has always stood with the masses against the classes. In the glory of triumph and the gloom of defeat it has been faithful to the principles of liberty and equality among men in the sense that they were under by the founders of the republic. I do not wonder that our enemies are dissatisfied with the situation. Four years ago the grand old party set up business at the old stand again and under the providence of God are likely to be found there for many years to come. Why should not its lease of power be extended indefinitely. Has it not fulfilled all its pledges and disappointed the prophesies of its enemies? There is not one intelligent man in this country who does not remember how the republican orators proclaimed from every stump in the land four years ago that if the democratic party were entrusted with power they would reorganize the supreme court, wipe out the constitutional amendments, pay the rebel debt, give the confederate soldiers pensions, send the negroes back into slavery, take away the pensions of union soldiers, paralyze business, turn back the clock of our destiny and play the devil generally.

What have we done? Given the cleanest and most economical administration since the war, reclaimed 80,000,000 acres of public domain that had been stolen by corporations during republican rule, paid $35,000,000 more pensions than were paid by any preceding administration, enforced the constitution and the laws throughout the land and maintained the dignity and honor of the stars and stripes on every sea.

Where are the Credit Mobiliry frauds, the whiskey ring infamies, the Star Route steals, the subsidies and hundreds of other filchings from the public treasury? No living man can name a job or steal or scandal that has touched the public trust. Econome, honesty and accountability have marked every feature of the government. Mr. Beltzhover then launched out into a clear, lucid and forcible exposition of the tariff and the mode of reduction proposed by the Mills bill, in the course of which he said: "Every act of the republican party for twenty years on the subject of taxation has been in the interest of wealth and monopoly. Do they divide their princely gains with the poor, toiling thousands who work their mines and swelter in their furnaces? Never. They give their men but a miserable pittance of the enormous profit, and if they do not choose to take what is offered they must starve, and if they strike the Winchester rifle of the Pinkerton men brings them to time." Mr. Beltzhoover closed with a ringing tribute to the unfaltering honesty of President Cleveland, who desires to do what is right. Mr. Beltzhoover was frequently applauded.

Four Books Learned in One Reading.

A Year's Work Done in Ten Days.

From the Chaplain of Exeter College, and Houghton Syria Prizeman, Oxford.

Dear Sir:—In April, 1883, while thinking of taking orders in September, I suddenly received notice that my ordination examination would be held in a fortnight. I had to break up my home, and, as a consequence I had only ten (10) days in which to prepare for the Exam. I should recommend a year's preparation in the case of any one so utterly unprepared as I was; but your System had so strengthened my natural memory, that I was able to remember and give the gist of any book after reading it once. I therefore read Lightfoot, Protor Harold Browne, Mosheim, &c., &c., once, and was successful in every one of the nine papers. The present Bishop of Edinburg knows the facts, for he lent me the books. Faithfully yours,

There is every prospect of there being an abundant nut crop this fall, and with the early fallings of the frost an abundance of chestnuts, hickorynuts, walnuts and hazlenuts may be found in the woods and barrens. The season has been very favorable for all kinds of nuts, particularly chestnuts, and they will be more plentiful than for a number of years.

It is said that a wonderful freak of nature has recently come to light near Tuckahoe, Northumberland county. A description of the child, for such it is, says the Danville Intelligencer, is given as follows: It has heavy overlapping ridges of flesh about the eyes; a broad flat nose; damp clammy lips, from which protrude long curved tusks; enormous flabby ears; bunches at the top of the forehead from which, on each side, sprout horns. Instead of hands it has the most terrible claws, split hoofs, and a tail two feet in length, making one of the most remarkable freaks of nature ever seen.

Sallie Hinton and her excellent company opened a week's engagement at the Opera House Monday evening in "Fanchon, the Cricket," Miss Hinton sustained the title role in a captivating manner, and the support was of a good order of excellence. Tuesday evening "The Pride of the Market," a comic drama, was presented, and was marked with the same faithful work by the entire company as the Monday evening's performance. Wednesday evening an excellent presentation was given of "Madcap" with Miss Hinton in the title role. The company will continue at the Opera House throughout the week and will present successively on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings "Little Barefoot," "Little Sunshine," and "The Lost Will."

When the Benton fair was drawing to a close Friday afternoon a man in a buggy drew up near the fence on the north side of the grounds and soon collected a crowd around him. He then proceeded to cheat as many people in the crowd as he could out of their money. Beginning by selling cuff buttons at twenty-five cents each, and giving the buyers their money back, he next proceeded to sell a fine gold chain for 50 cents. He sold probably ten or fifteen dollars worth of these, and showing a fine gold watch, tying it up in tissue paper and attaching or pretending to attach it to one of the chains, offered to sell the chain with "what was on the end of it for one dollar. He succeeded in selling a number of these; one or two of the first purchasers obtained a watch that would go, but the remainder received the chain with an empty metal case. He succeeded in carrying away from the crowd probably about twenty-five dollars.

After a few more expensive fires the authorities of this town may give the fire companies sufficient encouragement to enable them to keep up an efficient organization. There is no fire department now. Everybody is the boss at a fire. The great fault lies in the fact that the rules governing the department provide for rotation in the office of Chief Engineer, so that no man can fill the place but a year. The Chief Engineer should be selected solely with reference to his qualifications for the place and he should be retained in office so long as he will perform the duties. What is needed is a man who will keep up the organization, look after the property of the department and instil new interest in the firemen and in the community. The rules of the department are a part of the town laws, and impose duties upon the council that have seldom if ever been performed. The town has fire plugs, and hose and sufficient apparatus, but as there is no organization, there is delay and mistakes at fires that could not occur if there was an active Chief Engineer who would occasionally call out the department and have a drill. The only practice the firemen get is at fires, and the only wonder is that they do as well as they do, under the circumstances.

Professor Gauthier, of Paris, states that certain vital processes of the body develop putrefying substances in the tissues, which, if not speedily eliminated, produce disease. Ayer's Sarsaparilla effects the removal of these substances, and thereby preserves health.

Fire at Harman & Hassert's.

The community was startled Saturday evening at about nine o'clock by the cry of fire. It was soon located as the works of Harman & Hassert and the fire companies hastened thither, but when they arrived there the building was enveloped in flames, and but little could be done except to save the surrounding buildings. The Friendship fire company was the first to arrive and immediately connected, but there being but little pressure upon the main, the stream could not be thrown on the building. The firemen directed their energies to saving the office and warerooms, while the citizens were removing the patterns and other articles. The Friendship boys climbed upon the awning of the office and after "kicking" out the windows, directed streams of water both inside and out of the building, and kept the flames back. The Winona kept a stream on the blacksmith shop and and there held the flames in abeyance. The Rescue Company were on hand with their hooks and ladders, and did valuable assistance in reaching buildings. They broke their hose carriage at the Desk works fire, and leaving them without a carriage they dragged their hose to the fire. The cause of the fire is supposed to have been from a spark from their casting in the afternoon, and falling among the timbers between the machine shop and foundry, as the flames were first discovered in that locality. The loss is estimated at $30,000 with an insurance of $13,000. It is a severe loss to the proprietors, who started their plant a few years ago under such adverse circumstances. They have shown their determination of rebuilding by beginning at once and expect to be able to fill orders for their numerous patrons within sixty days. The town is fortunate in having such enterprising men.

Benton Fair.

The Benton Agricultural Society held their Fifth Annual Fair at Benton Wednesday, Thursday Friday and Saturday of last week, October 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th, and it was as usual a success. The B. & S. road ran special trains and numbers attended from here as well as from the surrounding country. The crowd was the largest on Saturday.

Jerry Saltzer's music department was, as usual, the centre of attraction. He had on exhibition a number of his excellent sewing machines, organs and pianos, and the usual crowd gathered around to hear the music rendered by Prof. Metherell and Mr. Spotts.

The fancy work, fruit, &c, departments were well represented and showed the interest of the ladies of that section in making the fair a success.

There was a fine lot of live stock, cattle, horses, &c., on exhibition.

On the south side of the grounds was a fine display of agricultural implements, plows, machinery, &c. White, Conner, & Sloan had on exhibition some of their fine farm machinery, and the Millville Wagon Company their celebrated wagons. Berber & Smith, of Stillwater, showed some of their fine carriages in the carriage department.

There was the usual display of chickens, etc.

The usual number of good races took place.

The Berwick band discoursed excellent music during three days of the fair.

Benton's first-class hotels served good meals to the numerous visitors in the town during the fair.

The largest line of children's suits ever shown at D. Lowenberg's.

Barn Raising at Stillwater.

Last week Wednesday, Judge McHenry raised his new barn in the place of the one recently destroyed by lightning. Though the wind was high and chilly, yet, otherwise, the weather was favorable. About 75 of the Judge's neighbors and friends gathered to help him in the good work. They commenced early in the day and by four p. m. the building was raised, with ties and plates on. Without a hitch, and what is more, without a single accident, everything moved right along, until the job was completed.

Mr. Calvin Herring, of Orangeville, the contractor, deserves credit for the workman like manner in which the whole laying out was done, every piece of timber fitting in the place for which it was intended.

The building is 89 feet long by 45 feet wide, all under one roof, which is to be of iron. In the lower story there will be ample stabling for all ordinary farm stock and fodder rooms, a manure yard and ample and convenient arrangements for feeding beef cattle. The upper story will have a threshing floor the whole length of the building, and side mows for the storage of grain and feed. When completed it will be one of the finest buildings of the kind in the valley.

Come one and all and hear the discussion of the great issues of the day. The ladies are invited. By order of the Democratic Standing Committee.

East Benton.

Last Friday a married daughter of James Pennington of Sugarloaf fell down the steps of the Benton fair observatory and dislocated several fingers.

One of Bill Hughes' fast horses gave him the slip last Friday on the race track in which Bill and the sulky lost their equilibrium and Bill was left and the sulky pursued the runaway upsidedown. No one seriously hurt.

The exhibits on the fair were good but the crowds small except on Saturday.

The "Sunday school game" at the fair was largely patronized by those who love a game of chance in which they pay the wheel boy 20 cents to give them a chance to win a dollar for 10 cents. A game of chance is nothing but a lottery, and a lottery is nothing but a swindle, a swindle is nothing but a fraud and whosoever is deceived thereby and robbed, deserves no pity.

The "muscle tester," by striking with a maul an instrument "two blows for a nickel" that would send a certain weight to a height equal to the power of the muscle is certainly not so meritous as the muscle tester that gave Lincoln the title of "rail splitter." We doubt whether the former is an index board to the "White House" or any other post of trust or honor. The operatives of such and like games are simply striving to make money without rendering an equivalent for it. They are parasites to the gambling belt and partake of all its principles and peculiarities. And gambling is neither honorable nor profitable.

The boarders at Jerry Hess' at Bloomsburg during court enjoyed themselves immensely. Mrs. Hess is a good hostess and a kind lady. Mr. Hess was engaged on the farm the last week of court.

Rhor McHenry of Benton has in course of erection a mammoth three story building. It promises when finished to be the most convenient and ornamental business building of the place. Rhor is never behind.

Council Proceedings.

Oct. 4, 1888.

Regular meeting. Present, P. S. Harman president and Messrs. Cadow, Wolf, Hassert, Ringler and Wells.

A committee from the Friendship Fire Company appeared and stated that N. S. Hendershott, on whose premises their engine house is erected, notified the fire company to remove it from his premises within two weeks.

E. R. Ikeler Esq. appeared and asked that council take action on the petition praying for the extension of East 3rd street to East street, as parties living on east Third street had no way to get out. On motion it was ordered that the committee on highways inquire into the probable cost of extending the street and report at next meeting of council.

The Sanitary Committee reported that in pursuance of complaint made to them, they examined the premises complained of, and found stagnant water on south side of the canal above Market street and advised draining; the Commissioner of Highways was directed to open the drains, leading from the end of the terra-cotta pipe drain under the bridge embankment, to the old Main ditch, so that water can freely pass away from the pipe.

On motion it was ordered that those lamp posts which are so situated that the light radiating therefrom is obstructed by large trees, shall be removed to suitable places.

A petition was presented asking that the limestone spawls which had been put upon 5th street between Centre and Iron streets, by citizens, should be paid for out of the town funds.

A communication from E. Mendenhall to council, asking for some repairs on upper Main street, was read, received and ordered filed, and the Commissioner of Highways was directed to make the necessary repairs if not already made.

The contract to license the town of Bloomsburg to lay a sewer pipe under the Pennsylvania canal was read and on motion the contract approved and the president of council was authorized to sign the same on the part of the town of Bloomsburg.

Terra-cotta pipes being needed to put in the drain on Iron street from Sixth street to Seventh street, it was on motion ordered that the same be ordered from Geo. F. Richmond.

On motion a building permit was granted to D. S. Laubach to build a balloon frame dwelling house veneered with brick, on east Third street.

A resolution fixing the grade on First street from Iron street east was offered and adopted.

A resolution, authorizing the loan of $6000, was offered and adopted.

A resolution empowering the president to execute the necessary contract with C. W. Miller for the construction of sewer in accordance with plans and specifications, was presented and adopted.

It was agreed that the compensation to town treasurer on moneys received on bonds negotiated, be one per cent.

On motion M. C. Woodward was elected tax-collector.

The following ordinance was offered and passed:

No. 41. An ordinance to prevent cattle from running at large in the town of Bloomsburg.

Be it ordained and enacted by the Town Council of the Town of Bloomsburg and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same.

SEC. 1. That on and after the first day of January, A. D. 1889, it shall be unlawful for any cattle to run at large at any time, in the town of Bloomsburg, and any cattle found running at large within the limits of the said Town of Bloomsburg shall be liable to be seized and disposed of in the same manner as horses, mules, goats, sheep, swine and geese may be seized and disposed of, under an ordinance passed, May 13, 1870, and the fees for the taking and impounding shall be fifty cents for each head, which shall be paid by the the owner together with other costs.

An ordinance to widen Port Noble street westward from Market street, and to widen Market street southward from Port Noble street to the Penna. canal was offered and passed.

On motion the report of Commissioner of Highways and bills and accounts were read and approved and secretary directed to issue orders for same.

Council then adjourned.

A negro was sent to jail Thursday morning for stealing a watch from Wm. Brooks Wednesday evening. The watch was sold to one of our jewelers late Wednesday evening, and was promptly returned at the hearing before Squire Jacoby.

When Major Reene, of Watsontown, was in Bloomsburg on Grand Army Day he had the badge stolen from him that was presented to him by his regiment when they had their reunion two years ago. He never expected to see it again, but Wednesday morning on his way to Gettysburg he displayed the badge together with a letter from Secretary Stewart at Harrisburg saying that K. C. Bond a Philadelphia detective, had taken it from a shady character in that city and sent it to him to return to the owner.—Milton Argus.

The new Bonnets and Hats. The drift is to smaller, snugger, closer shapes. What there is of lingering Gainesborough effect is clipped and warped.

More Toques and Turbans. Bonnets a little wider and a reef or so in the topsails. And with everything a touch of green. Bright green, medium green, dead green that you can hardly see in some of them, but at least a bit of it is sure to be there. A great deal of white creeps in now and then, always in sharp contrasts.

Poor birds! Feathers are fluttering all around. Pretty to be sure, never prettier. You meet breasts and flat feather bands and tips and wings at almost every turn.

Jet holds on, but not in such solid masses. Mixed with velvet and ribbons. More delicate, airy, lacey effects.

Long plumes and nodding toward the front again.

The old fashioned bandeau too. In triplets above the bonnet front.

We were never in better shapes with Silks, or with velvets, and Plushes. Picking and ordering for months past to get ready for now. The Autumn things are in. New shades, novel effects, and varied weaves. A galaxy of beauty grouped in the mellow light of the Transept. Only random touches to-day.

No Black Silk more popular than the Faille Francaise. Here are two lots, the best value we ever offered:

21½ inches wide $1.25
22 inches wide $1.50

We took an importer's all of Blacked Striped Moiré with brocade figures—$3 goods; you shall have them at $1.50.

Every tint that ever gets in Colored Silks. Among the weaves:

Armure Royal	Moire Antique
Moire Francaise	Peau de Soie
Rhadame	Faille Francaise

A 20-inch Faille, all shades, at $1.25, shows the price trend.

Novelities and Fancy Silks, Brocades, and the revived Matelassé, in favor for the new style of Douillette Cloaks.

Silks for evening wear, receptions, and weddings are on a counter by themselves. Sorts as thick as blossoms in a hedge row. From 75c Surahs to gold and silver tinsel effects at $10.

Black and Colored Velvets run from $1 to $7.50. A special lot of 22 inch at $1.50 isn't half big enough.

What is said to be the largest variety of Plushes ever imported. Brilliant shades for fancy work, more subdued colors for Wraps:

18 inch, 75c to $1.85
22 inch, $1
24 inch, $1.50 to $6

You must look twice to tell the Seal Plushes for Cloakings from real seal.

4300 pairs of Women's Real Kid Gloves, just from the Custom House. 4 buttons, handsomely embroidered, 75c. As close to half price as well can be. You'll open your eyes and very likely your pocketbook at the same time when you see them.

Whether your pick be the $1.25 "Wanamaker" Brussels, or the $1 grade, or one for 90c (the lowest price ever made for a good Brussels Carpet), every cent you pay will go for genuine Carpet worth. We have met every want in Brussels Carpet so perfectly that no buyer need look twice.

Just as true of the Tapestries. The new 45c kind has the true Brussels look. 45c for a good Tapestry! An unheard-of happening.

The $1 Velvets are in Moquette styles of patterns. A few designs of Moquettes will be wound up at $1.25.

SOME FOOLISH PEOPLE allow a cough to run until it gets beyond the reach of medicine. They often say, "Oh, it will wear away," but in most cases it wears them away. Could they be induced to try the successful medicine called Kemp's Balsam, which we sell on a positive guarantee to cure, they would immediately see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Price 50c. and $1. Trial size free. At all druggists.

THE POPULATION OF BLOOMSBURG is about 5,000, and we would say at least one-half are troubled with some affection of the throat and lungs as those complaints are, according to statistics, more numerous than others. Before It Is Born.

SOME STARTLING STATEMENTS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

Doctor Oliver Wendell Holmes, on being asked when the training of a child should begin, replied: "A hundred years before it is born."

Are we to infer from this that this generation is responsible for the condition of the race a hundred years from now?

Is this wonderful generation the natural result of the proper diet and medicines of a hundred years ago?

It is conceded in other lands that most of the wonderful discoveries of the world in this century have come from this country. Our ancestors were reared in log cabins, and suffered hardships and trials.

But they lived and enjoyed health to a ripe old age. The women of those days would endure hardships without apparent fatigue that would startle those of the present age.

Why was it?

One of the proprietors of the popular remedy known as Warner's safe cure, has been faithfully investigating the cause, and has called to his aid scientists as well as medical men, impressing upon them the fact that there cannot be an effect without a cause. This investigation disclosed the fact that in the olden times simple remedies were administered, compounded of herbs and roots, which were gathered and stored in the lofts of the log cabins, and when sickness came on, these remedies from nature's laboratory were used with the best effects.

What were these remedies? What were they used for? After untiring and diligent search they have obtained the formulas so generaly used for various disorders.

Now the question is, how will the olden time preparations affect the people of this age, who have been treated, under model medical schools and codes, with poisonous and injurious drugs. This text has been carefully pursued, until they are convinced that the preparations they now call Warner's Log Cabin remedies are what our much abused systems require.

Among them is what is known as Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla, and they frankly announce that they do not consider the sarsaparilla of so much value in itself as it is in the combination of the various ingredients which together work marvelously upon the system. They also have preparations for other diseases, such as "Warner's Log Cabin cough and consumption remedy," "Log Cabin hops and buchu remedy," "Warners Log Cabin hair tonic." They have great confidence that they have a cure for the common disease of catarrh, which they give the name of "Log Cabin rose cream." Also a "Log Cabin plaster," which they are confident will supplant all others, and a liver pill, to be used separately or in connection with the other remedies.

We hope that the public will not be disappointed in these remedies, but will reap a benefit from the investigations, and that the proprietors will not be embarrassed in their introduction by dealers trying to substitute remedies that have been so familiar to the shelves of our druggists. This line of remedies will be used instead of others. Insist upon your druggist getting them for you if he hasn't them yet in stock, and we feel confident that these new remedies will receive approbation at our reader's hands, as the founders have used every care in their preparation.

Evarts as a Humorist.

Senator Evarts has at command a sententious humor that is rarely hinted at in such of his oblong periods as are most familiar to the public. A correspondent says that he remarked of Rhode Island that "it was settled by the Dutch; the Yankees settled the Dutch;" and of certain Christians who landed in New England: "They praised God and fell on their knees—then they fell upon the aborigines." The ex-Secretary also sent to Bancroft this letter:

"DEAR BANCROFT: I am very glad to send you two products of my pen to-day—a barrel of pickled pig pork and my eulogy on Chief-Justice Chase."—Philadelphia Ledger.

WHAT AILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, lifeless, and indescribably miserable, both physically and mentally; experience a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, or of "goneness," or emptiness of stomach in the morning, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, dizziness, frequent headaches, blurred eyesight, "floating specks" before the eyes, nervous prostration or exhaustion, irritability of temper, hot flushes, alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting, transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness, or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant, indescribable feeling of dread, or of impending calamity?

If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from that most common of American maladies—Bilious Dyspepsia, or Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it, if taken according to directions for a reasonable length of time. If not cured, complications multiply and Consumption of the Lungs, Skin Diseases, Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, or other grave maladies are quite liable to set in and, sooner or later, induce a fatal termination.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts powerfully upon the Liver, and through that great blood-purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever cause arising. It is equally efficacious in acting upon the Kidneys, and other excretory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and healing their diseases. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it promotes digestion and nutrition, thereby building up both flesh and strength. In malarial districts, this wonderful medicine has gained great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

CURES ALL HUMORS,

from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-joint Disease, "White Swellings," Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large Treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, or the same amount for a Treatise on Scrofulous Affections.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength and bodily health will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofula of the Lungs, is arrested and cured by this remedy, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. From its marvelous power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now world-famed remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "CONSUMPTION CURE," but abandoned that name as too restrictive for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

Sold by Druggists, at $1.00, or Six Bottles for $5.00.

People Pay Heavy Bills

For medical attendance and medicine. Sickness is expensive, and those with small incomes feel the burden keenly. The physician must sometimes be called but he is not needed one-tenth as often as many think. What is required is a family medicine; one that will relieve and cure those ailments which are liable to come at any season and to attack both sexes and all ages. Amid the host of articles that are offered to the public for this purpose nearly all are useless or worse than useless. It is no vain boast to say that the medicine herein mentioned is of a very different character. What it has done is known to multitudes of persons whom it has cured of weary and painful diseases. It has saved time, money and many dear and precious lives. Now please understand that as the life is in the blood so disease and death are in the blood. Get the poison out of the blood and life and health at once return to every part of the body. Dr. Brown's Sarsaparilla does this work quickly and surely through its direct and positive action upon the stomach, bowels, kidneys, liver and skin. For all waste and corrupt elements must be cast off by means of those channels. Rheumatism, scrofula, bronchitis, gout consumption, malaria, catarrh, hay fever, all skin affections and eruptions are diseases of the blood.

Mr. Geo. H. Wish, of the firm of Thaxter & Wish, Bangor, Me., was afflicted with a scrofulous humor which caused troublesome sores upon both his legs. Many remedies were used and several physicians consulted, without result. After taking Brown's Sarsaparilla a short time he was better, and soon the eruptions disappeared and he is now all right. This is only one of a thousand victories gained by

BROWN'S Sarsaparilla.

Political Methods.

Our dispatches given from many of the counties show that the Democrats yesterday put into practical operation their method of contesting the present political battle. There were not less than 1,200 Democratic meetings held in Pennsylvania yesterday and probably more.

These meetings were entirely inexpensive. They had, as a rule, no deafening bands, no flaunting banners, no pompous parades, but they were held in the townships, at the cross-roads, in the villages, in the valleys and other places convenient for district conference on the political situation. At many of them there were no orators, but the President's tariff message or the Mills bill was read, and serious consultation was had as to the duty of citizens in the selection of the next President.

On Saturday next the Republicans will exhibit their method of conducting the battle. They will hold grand mass meetings in every country town of the State on that day, with imposing processions, bands of music, uniformed clubs and able speakers to enthuse the party. It will be very costly; it will call out great numbers for a frolic, but will it impress the people as will the quiet, inexpensive, common sense method adopted by the Democrats?

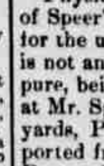

This is a campaign of education; of sober consideration on the part of tens of thousands of voters in Pennsylvania; and it is a campaign of dollars and cents. It is not a campaign of cash for votes, but it is a campaign that brings up for study the wages of labor and the cost of necessaries of life; and it is, therefore, more than ever in the past, a campaign of dollars and cents. In such a contest, which will win the most votes?—Philadelphia Times.

We are willing to bear personal testimony to the efficacy and value of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which we have been advertising some years in our paper, having used it for blood impurities with great success. It is a preparation of standard merit, made of perfectly pure ingredients, and thoroughly effective in cleansing and purifying the system. For eruptions, boils, etc., it can be relied upon every time. Our own experience with it has been most gratifying, and we are glad to give it this endorsement.—Athol (Mass.) Transcript.

Gov. Gordon Was Re-elected.

The election for Governor and State officers in Georgia passed off quietly last week. There being no opposition, Gov. Gordon and the other officials were re elected. The amendment to the Constitution increasing the number of Supreme Court judges from three to five was adopted. A light vote was polled throughout the State.

In the Atlanta Senatorial District Sam Small, the Prohibitionist, was defeated by F. B. Rice, Democrat, after a hot contest.

A LOG CABIN does not look very handsome from the outside, with the coon skin nailed on the door, but health and contentment the hardy pioneers of American civilization are found in them. Their health was maintained by simple remedies of roots and herbs, now reproduced in Warners Log Cabin Remedies, made by Warner of Safe Cure fame.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Physicians heartily endorse the use of Speer's celebrated Port Grape Wine for the use of debilitated females. It is not an intoxicant, and is absolutely pure, being made from grapes grown at Mr. Speer's Mount Prospect Vineyards, Passaic, N. J., from vines imported from the port wine district of Portugal.

TATE SPRINGS, TENN., July 4, 1888.
The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.:

Gentlemen—Seven years ago I contracted an exceedingly bad case of blood poison. I tried a physician, the best at command, but secured no benefit. My throat began to get sore, and my body covered with sores and ulcers. Going from bad to worse, I felt that my grave must be reached in the near future. I gave up the doctors' treatment, and with a despairing hope I commenced taking your medicine. I began to improve from the first bottle, and in a short time the ulcers healed, and my skin cleared off and was entirely well.

One year ago a case of catarrh developed in my system. The physician did his best, but could not cure me; but two bottles of Swift's Specific gave me permanent relief.

Gentlemen—I have been afflicted with a skin disease for about twelve years, and the best medical treatment failed to give me relief. I am now using Swift's Specific, and have received the greatest benefit from its use. Yours truly, WM. JONES.

Jack—Gus, lend me a dollar?

Gus (dubiously)—Well, Jack, I've only got a couple of dollars to my name.

Jack—You're lucky. I did think of striking you for two.

Minister—Well, Bobby, what did you learn at school to-day?

Bobby—I learned that the world is round and turns on hinges like that globe in the parlor.

Minister—Well, what did you think of that?

Bobby—I think they're asking me to believe a good deal for a small boy.

More votes for tariff reform. All the lions and tigers in the Zoo are howling for free raw material.

Brown—I saw Dumley this morning and I didn't think he was looking well.

Robinson (grimly)—I saw him, too, and I thought he was looking extremely well. He owes me $5 and he saw me three blocks off.

IF YOU WANT

Healthful Biscuit and Pastry,

Use Rumford Yeast Powder. It is not only free from anything injurious, but is positively beneficial to health. It restores to the flour the life-giving phosphates lost in bolting, which are required by the system. No other powder does this.
